

Marker-assisted selection: myth or reality?

Draft agenda

UNITS

Trieste (IT)

12 June 2019

Thematic session:

“Marker-assisted selection: myth or reality?”

Draft Agenda

Wednesday 12 June 2019
9:00 – 10:30	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Introduction: marker-assisted selection: myth or reality in VIVALDI? Sylvie Lapègue (Ifremer)</li> <li>- WP2 useful inputs for selective breeding, Beatriz Novoa (CSIC)</li> </ul> Questions and discussion <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Estimation of genotype by environment interaction for survival of Pacific oysters, Ainhoa Blanco (WUR)</li> </ul> Questions and discussion <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Selective breeding in Manila clam: a journey of a thousand miles starts with one step (Lao Tzu) Luca Bargelloni (UNIPD)</li> </ul> Questions and discussion
10:30-10:45 Coffee break
10:45 – 12:15	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Genetics of lice eating ability in lumpfish (cyclopterus lumpus) using dd-RAD sequencing. Luqman Aslam (NOFIMA)</li> </ul> Questions and discussion <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- What is the status of Markers-assisted selection in shellfish industry in France? Florian Enez (SYSAAF)</li> </ul> Questions and discussion <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Conclusions. Jean-Baptiste Lamy (Ifremer)</li> </ul>